

Dear Parents

First of all, thank you so much for the amazing evening we shared on Tuesday. It was a worthy celebration of our diverse community: we enjoyed good food, fun, cultures, costumes, games, money-raising; but far more importantly, we shared time and interest in one another. It was a wonderful evening which also raised £370 - thank you all so very much!

Next week is already looking exciting:

Monday - Juniors attend the international event at Morley Community Church with their Bible studies students in the afternoon;

Tuesday - a pancake treat for all in the afternoon to celebrate Pancake Day;

Wednesday - Water Safety event at the Baths. From 3.30 onwards Mrs Tanner and Miss Baldwin will refresh their Prevent Training during a Teams Call with Leeds Safeguarding Board;

Thursday is World Book Day and we look forward to seeing some wonderful costumes as we invite children to come to school dressed as a book character;

Friday we welcome visitors to view the school in the morning.

There will be a letter sent out today regarding the Spring Revue which is coming up very soon - please look out for this.

It's been lovely to be back with the children - enjoying the buzz of learning and friendships: we look forward to a very busy half term ahead with lots of additional activities so please keep an eye out for letters, the website and social media updates. In the meantime, have a lovely weekend everyone.

Kind regards

Julie Tanner
